Home Learning newsletter

W.C: 30.3.2020

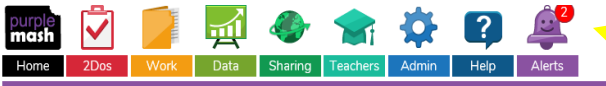

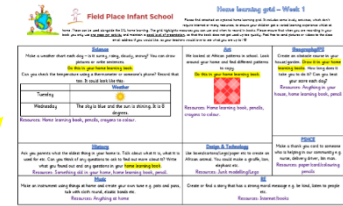

Hello everyone! We hope you have had a great week at home; starting to explore IXL and Purple Mash. We have all loved the emails you have sent us so far. The photos and videos are great too! If you haven't sent us an email yet, have a look at the bottom of the page to see what your teacher's email address is - we'll look forward to hearing from you! We are all learning together during this time but if you have any suggestions on how to make this experience even better, let us know!

All information is on our website with some great links too! These include where you can watch phonics videos and find decodable reading books. Head over to have a look. Click on 'Home Learning' at the top.

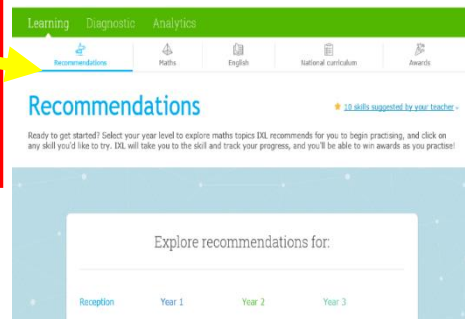

At the bottom of the 'Home Learning Page' for Year 1, there is a Home Learning grid with lots of creative ideas on.

We have set weekly tasks on Purple Mash too. Look in 'Alerts' to see what they are. If you're not sure of your login, email your teacher to check.

When you log in to IXL, click on 'Recommendations' near the top on the left.

Once you have clicked on 'Recommendations', click on the 'skills recommended by your teacher'. Below is the order we suggest you complete them in unless we have emailed you otherwise. Below are some links that might support each activity.
