Hello nursery, we hope that you are all keeping well and safe. We would like to wish you all a lovely spring bank holiday and half term. We would also like to say Happy Eid to our families who celebrated it this weekend.

Next week, Nasa and SpaceX are launching a rocket into space with two astronauts on board. To celebrate this achievement, here are some space-themed activities you can do at home!

Here is a Moon sand recipe for some fun sensory play.	Stories linked to space— The Way Back Home by Oliver Jeffers Whatever Next by Jill Murphy	Watch Tim Peake, a British Astronaut, read a story from space!
Learn a counting rhyme about space. 5 Little Men in a Flying Saucer	Have a go at making your own space rocket using recycled boxes and tubes. 	Why not make some space snacks and have your own picnic on the moon?
Make your own mark making tray at home to practice lines, shapes and letters. All you need is a tray filled with sand, lentils, rice etc.	This is a lovely activity to do with your child to encourage comparative language on size and length. I.e. longer, shorter, biggest, smallest, same, different.	Phonics Play are offering free access to their interactive resources. Phase 1 games are appropriate for nursery children. Our next Rhyme Challenge is Jack and Jill. You can learn the rhyme here.

Can you spot Jack and Jill in the story Each Peach Pear Plum?

We have enjoyed receiving updates about what you have been doing at home, so please keep them coming! Email us at nursery@fieldplace.org.uk

I have been really busy with practising my drawing and making crafts. I have loved baking new food with my mummy and I like helping out with the dinner.

Felicity has been very busy at home doing Cosmic Kids Yoga. She has also been drawing some fantastic pictures and practising her counting.

Thank you Daisy for our lovely card! Daisy has been busy at home on her new swing and at her craft area. She also enjoys doing Cosmic Kids Yoga with mummy!
