Home Learning newsletter

W.C: 22.6.2020

Hello! It's been great to see so many children back at school and working hard. There are still lots of you at home and we have noticed how hard you are working too. Your teachers are still thinking about all of you and are on email if you need them.

We are all starting to see more people now and are able to talk to friends and family from a distance (with your adult's permission). It is still really important that we remember how to keep each other safe. Washing hands is very important and keeping our distance. It's really difficult when we can't hug someone that we miss and love. Here is a video that might help 'While we can't hug' <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2PnnFrPaRgY>. With the people at home can you come up with a way to greet someone while keeping each other safe?

Please continue to email us weekly, as we are here to help support you during this home learning experience.
